Ralph Darling,

I hate that the school year is ending because I won't be seeing very much of you. Honey, please come over and see me sometime and we will go dancing or to the show, but it doesn't matter where we go just so I can be with you and I hope you feel the same. I'll always be thinking about you and I hope you will think about me just as much. I thought that you would never fall for me but you did and now we're madly in love now and
I always love you. I hope you don't ever change.

Dedication

North Davidson High School
May, 1955

Dear Faculty,

As many of us know this Nordahi is the last performance of service we may give to North Davidson. We recognize what you have done for us. Therefore, to the ones who have so patiently and willingly given us this opportunity, we wish to leave our last marks of appreciation. In passing from this scene we shall not forget that without your untiring efforts we could not have attained this goal along the road of life.

Yours has not been an easy task, we know. If we have seemed ungrateful, you have forgiven our shortcomings because they are the usual faults resulting from youth and inexperience.

To you then, the Faculty, the Nordahi is dedicated with love and assurance that you have not labored in vain. Your inspiration has led us this far and points to a future limited only by our own ambitions.

With gratification,
Annual Staff

Class Poem

Season by Season the years wheeled by,
Like the hands of a clock on the wall.
Each day measured by moments brief,
Slipping beyond recall.

Year by Year the grades were passed
As slowly our goal we saw.
And now as Seniors of North Davidson High,
We bid farewell to all.

Sadly so Sadly we leave behind
The memory of school days here,
Of teachers and class mates and all the good times
That we treasure and hold so dear.

North Davidson, North Davidson our Alma Mater so true,
Your hallowed walls in our memory remain
The lessons you taught and the experience you gave
Will come back to us like a haunting refrain.

Unafraid and trusting we start a new life,
As those who have gone on before.
May God in His great wisdom divine
Open for us opportunity's door.

Prophecy

Time - June, 1962

Setting - Class reunion on school lawn

- Don: This is just like old times. Seems like only yesterday that we graduated.
- Evelyn: Time really flies. I believe our class has been quite prosperous. I hear that you have opened a studio in New York.
- Don: Yes, that's what I've always wanted.
- Evelyn: After finishing business school I went to work at Western Electric. I'm a bookkeeper there, and I really like it.
- Don: Seems like most everybody is here. I got a letter from Benny Link who's a colonel in the army in China now. He couldn't be here because he couldn't get a furlough.
- Evelyn: I see that Roger Woosley and Alfred Nifong were able to fly in from Fort Lee, Va.
- Don: Did you notice Sonny Everhart drive up in that Cadillac? I hear he's quite a Romeo these days. Look over there at Arlene Bates and Janie Berrier. They seem to have their eyes on him too. About the time one of them lands Sonny they won't have to slave away as secretaries for Wade Curry who now owns one of the Cotton mills in Lexington. Oh, and Betty Rose is a secretary to her husband's contracting business.
- Evelyn: By the way, I was talking to Peggy Essick a while ago and she told me she is now a metropolitan opera star. Peggy always did like to sing. Did you hear about Harold Nifong? Who would have thought he would be a highway patrolman after the way he used to drive.
- Don: Why, there is Lonnie Shoaf. I hear he is becoming a successful dentist with Mrs. James Ashmore, the former Becky Whitlow as his receptionist.
- Evelyn: I see Toby has his wife Susan and his family with him.
- Don: And what about Avon Mize! Who would ever have thought he would become a lawyer.
- Evelyn: Yes, and he has set up quite a practice in Lexington. Doris Leatherman is his private secretary.
- Don: Hey, I hear music. Who brought a radio?
- Evelyn: I don't believe it's a radio. It sounds like the three girls I saw singing on television last week: Lenora Newsom, Carolyn Calloway, and Lawana Hunter.
- Don: Heavens! What crashed? Oh! It's Matthew Hanes. What does he think this is, Bowman Gray Stadium?
- Evelyn: Oh! He hit Sonny's Cadillac.
- Don: I guess he's resting on his laurels since he won that race at Darlington. He's come a long way since he used to race on the Midway Ball Diamond.
- Evelyn: But I guess everything will be all right. There goes the sheriff, Charlie Foltz, to straighten things out.
- Don: I talked with Mrs. Donald Nifong, the former Virginia Yokley. She was so glad we had this reunion before she and Donald move to California where he has contracted a job.
- Evelyn: I must talk to her before I leave, but I see she is talking to Joan Leonard now. I don't suppose you've seen any of Joan's paintings in New York. I hear she has won several outstanding prizes for her art work.
- Don: I'm glad to hear she's making good. She always could draw well. Oh, that reminds me, Jack Weatherman is now a commercial artist, and he designed the cover for the May issue of "Charm Magazine" for which Nann Sheppard modeled. Oh, what ever happened to Shirley Hedrick?
- Evelyn: Why, I should have mentioned this before Shirley works in the same office that I work in at Western Electric. Oh, look who just drove up, Leona and Mike. Aren't their two little boys cute? Did you know that Leona, Annetta and Shelby are all working together in a beauty shop?
- Don: No!
- Evelyn: Yes, and Annetta and Shelby are married too.
- Don: To Joe and Alton I suppose? Ralph Ball married Annetta's sister, too, didn't he? Look at that dish that Pat Harper is uncovering over there.
- Evelyn: No wonder that looks so delicious. Pat is the dietician at North Davidson now.
- Don: Speaking of Pat, whatever happened to Jane Yountz and Alice Hege?

Evelyn: Jane is married and she is a French teacher. Alyce is making a career of nursing.

Don: Oh, is she a nurse too? I didn't know about her, but I was in the City Hospital the other day to see Mrs. Bobby Clodfelter, you know, Virginia Motsinger, and I saw that Ruby Howard, Sylvia Hedrick, and Nancy Weaver are nurses up there.

Evelyn: What's wrong with Virginia?

Don: I happened to run into her doctor, Ann York, on the street the other day, and she told me that Virginia had broken her ankle while helping Bobby build a new tobacco barn.

Evelyn: I hear quite a few of the boys in our class turned out to be farmers too. On my way to work everyday I pass by Herbert Tesh's big dairy farm, and I also saw in the "Dispatch" last week that George Sowers was elected farmer of the week.

Don: What about Wayne Nifong and Bobby Boger? They always seemed interested in farming.

Evelyn: They went to State College. Wayne majored in animal husbandry, and Bobby is an agriculture teacher.

Don: I hear that Bruce is a veterinarian. Isn't that Dolores Saintsing over there?

Evelyn: Of course you know its Dolores Maxwell now. Wonder if those four children with her are hers.

Don: Well, if there isn't Evva Penry. I've read about her team's many victories last season. I bet she really feels at home coaching at North Davidson.

Evelyn: She does. The girls like her as well as we used to like Miss Owens. Look who she's talking to, Nancy Willard, who now teaches in the commercial department.

Evelyn: Who are those two girls over there?

Don: That's Carolyn Whisnant and Barbara Leonard. They've been in New York, and it just so happened that we came down on the same train. Carolyn is now a "Blues" singer, and Barbara is her manager.

Evelyn: Here comes a little chartreuse Ford. That must be Virgie and Mike.

Don: That's the boy she was dating 7 years ago in high school. When did they get married?

Evelyn: They didn't. They're still dating. Matter of fact, I talked to them the other night at the show.

Don: Say, don't Sherry and Bill Lanier own Welcome Drive-In now? How in the world do they manage working at night with five children to look after?

Evelyn: Oh, that brings in another classmate. Joan Michael runs a nursery in Welcome, and Sherry and Bill leave their children there.

Don: Who planted all these pretty flowers on the lawn?

Evelyn: It was a 4-H club project. They've done quite a lot to improve the school grounds under the supervision of Phyllis Sink. She always was interested in 4-H work.

Don: Why, there's Archie Nifong. I haven't seen him in a long time. Wonder what he's doing?

Evelyn: I talked to him, and he told me he is running a sawmill.

Don: Oh, my goodness, who are those two little boys climbing over the table?

Evelyn: Why, can't you guess? They're Nancy and Jerry Johnson's twins. It really keeps Nancy busy keeping up with them.

Don: Who are those two women sitting over there under the shade tree? One of them looks like Carolyn Beeson.

Evelyn: I believe it is Carolyn, and the other one is Jean Essick. I guess they are both still patiently waiting on their men in service. Oh, look, who just drove up. Charles Beck. I guess with his job as a greyhound bus driver he couldn't get here any sooner.

Don: Isn't that Shirley Hinkle putting something on the table? She should have something delicious since she owns Hinkle's Barbeque. I'd like to go on and on talking about our classmates, but right now I'm more interested in that barbecued ham on the table.
